What TPI Partners Say

TPI is the leading professional body for the residential property management sector and for years has been raising professional standards in property management by providing expert advice, training and technical guidance to its members.

With over 350 residential managing agent members across England & Wales, collectively managing 58,000 blocks, 1.6 million leasehold homes, and over £1bn in client funds each year, TPI Partners benefit from a substantial business opportunity.

As a TPI Partner you can exclusively engage with TPI members and introduce your products and services, as well as aligning your business with TPI, in raising standards and adapting to technical and legislative changes.

We have an established network of over 130 Partners – from accountants, legal firms, and surveyors, to recruitment agencies, Health & Safety consultants and software providers – who are already enjoying the TPI Advantage.

"TPI continues to raise professional standards and quality of service in the leasehold sector. PDC is proud to be a TPI Partner and align itself with an organisation of like-minded ethos."

Joe Tona, Director, Property Debt Collection

"As a key supplier to the industry, TPI Partner membership allows Adiuvo to demonstrate our commitment to the highest levels of service and quality, which we feel TPI upholds."

Colin Stokes, Managing Director, Adiuvo

"Since becoming a TPI Partner member we have grown our client base within the sector considerably. The TPI membership programme is run efficiently and there's regular well-organised events we can attend. We work with many trade associations and membership organisations, but TPI is up there with the best."

Marc Wheatley, UK Channel Manager, Full Power Utilities Ltd

ABOUT TPI

The Property Institute (TPI) is the professional body for residential property managers in England, Scotland, and Wales facilitating safer managed property communities.

It actively supports its members to continually improve building management standards through their work and ongoing professional development; ensuring people's homes are managed competently, safely, and ethically.

Comprising more than 6,500 property managers and over 350 managing agent firms collectively, TPI members manage over 1.6 million leasehold homes in over 58,000 residential blocks and estates in England and Wales, along with Scottish freehold and institutional build-to-rent across the UK.

Following the 2022 merger of the Association of Residential Managing Agents (ARMA) and the Institute of Residential Property Management (IRPM), The Property Institute has a combined legacy spanning over 50 years of experience. Today, it stands as the trusted and credible voice in the UK residential management profession, dedicated to advancing industry standards and practices.
